Hunterdon Land Trust Hosts Dvoor Farm Barn Tour

FLEMINGTON – Hunterdon Land Trust will offer a free tour of the historic barns at the Dvoor Farm on Sunday, Sept. 12 at 10:30 a.m.

Christopher Pickell of Pickell Architecture in Flemington will lead the tour and discuss the diverse history of the property's barns and wagon house, which date from around 1800 up to the 1930s. For the first time, participants can tour the inside of the barns, getting a closer look at how the buildings were constructed and what makes them unique.

Space is limited, and registration is required. To sign up, email Director of Outreach Dave Harding at dave@hunterdonlandtrust.org.

Pickell specializes in upgrading antique buildings, historic design, and timber and stone barns. He's also a trustee of the Hunterdon County Historical Society.

The Case-Dvoor Farm tells the story of the region's farm culture and architecture from the mid-18th to mid-20th centuries through its impressive stone dwelling, and large complex of frame barns and other outbuildings.

The tour will be given during Hunterdon Land Trust's Farmers' Market, which features about 25 vendors with an array of organic produce, all-natural chicken and pork, fresh-baked breads, cave-ripened cheeses, honey, pies, plants, fresh-cut flowers, locally roasted coffee, milk, eggs and more. Market hours are 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Farmers' Market sponsors are Basil Bandwagon Natural Market, Northfield Bank, Thomas McMillan — Callaway Henderson Sotheby's International Realty, Hunterdon Healthcare, McPherson & Newland Insurance, and Matt's Red Rooster Grill.
