Birding Event at Idell Preserve

Discover the bird habitat at Hunterdon Land Trust's Idell Preserve on Sunday, Oct. 22 at 8 a.m.

Juanita Hummel, of the Washington Crossing Audubon Society, will lead this hour-long birding event where participants will discover migratory birds along the enhanced Idell Preserve trail, which runs through charming woodlands. She'll stop at several habitat sites and discuss why preserving Idell was important for the local bird habitat.

The program is free, but reservations are strongly encouraged by emailing dave@hunterdonlandtrust.org. The Idell Preserve is located at 50 Barbertown-Idell Road in Kingwood Township. The walk will begin at the kiosk near the preserve's parking area.

Hummel, an avid birder and nature lover, served on the board of the Washington Crossing Audubon Society, and volunteers with the NJ Audubon Society, the Wildlife Conservation Corps and other conservation organizations.

Hunterdon Land Trust has preserved more than 11,600 acres in the Hunterdon County region since forming in 1996. Its mission is to preserve the integrity of the rural landscapes in the Hunterdon County region by protecting and enhancing natural resources and the cultural landscape of the historic Dvoor Farm for public enjoyment and education.

This program is sponsored by the National Park Service's Lower Delaware Wild & Scenic Program, which aims to protect the natural, cultural and historic value of this great American river.

Tree Planting at Idell Preserve on Oct. 24

KINGWOOD -- Help something beautiful take root here in Hunterdon County by joining Hunterdon Land Trust at the Idell Preserve on Tuesday, Oct. 24 at 9 a.m. for a tree planting stewardship event.

FirstEnergy Corp. volunteers will help plant an array of native trees at the preserve, located at 50 Barbertown Idell Road in Kingwood. But HLT has a great many trees to plant and could really use your help!

RSVP Stewardship Program Manager Emily Dunn at emily@hunterdonlandtrust.org if you can join us.
